MODEL SYSTEMS

Non-discrete biomolecular computing: an approach to computational complexity
N.G. Rambidi (Moscow, Russia) 3

Coding of odor intensity
P. Lánský, J.-P. Rospars (Prague, Czech Republic; Versailles, France) 15

Persistence of a four species food chain with full omnivory
A. Sikder, A.B. Roy (Calcutta, India) 39

The effect of diffusion on two predators exploiting a resource
D. Mukherjee, D. Mitra, S. Ray, A.B. Roy (Calcutta, India) 49

World and regional populations
H.C. Tuckwell, J.A. Koziol (Canberra, Australia; La Jolla, CA) 59

Quantum mechanical properties of biosystems: A framework for complexity, structural stability, and transformations
A.U. Igamberdiev (Voronezh, Russia) 65

Book reviews 75

Publisher's note and Editorial 81

Special "Swansong" Issue edited by L. Margulis

Introduction — From Gaia to Microcosm
L. Margulis (Amherst, MA) 83

Gaia: Goddess and Idea
L. Levine (Detroit, MI) 85

Gaia: Goddess or Thermostat
C. Tickell (Oxford, UK) 93

Classification of organisms: living and fossil
C. Anderson (Columbus, OH) 99

Horizontal transfer of ATPase genes — the tree of life becomes a net of life
E. Hilario, J.P. Gogarten (Storrs, CT) 111

Origins of species: acquired genomes and individuality
L. Margulis (Amherst, MA) 121

Discussion — Holobionts, hybrids, and cladistic classification (reply to David P. Mindell)
J. Zrzavý, Z. Skála (Česke Budějovice and Prihonice, Czech Republic) 127

Merger of taxa and the definition of monophyly (reply to J. Zrzavý and Z. Skála)
D.P. Mindell (Cincinnati, OH) 130
Distribution of types of microbial mats at the Ebro Delta, Spain
R. Guerrero, J. Urmeneta, G. Rampone (Barcelona, Spain) 135
Hypersea and the land ecosystem
M.A.S. McMenamin, D.L.S. McMenamin (South Hadley, MA) 145
Extinction and viruses
C. Emiliani (Coral Gables, FL) 155
The 'tubulin-like' S1 protein of Spirochaeta is a member of the hsp65 stress protein family
D. Munson, R. Obar, G. Tzertzinis, L. Margulis (Amherst and Cambridge, MA) 161
Surface bacteria of Streblomastix strix are sensory symbionts
B.D. Dyer, O. Khalsa (Norton, MA) 169
Symbionticism in the light of recent cytological investigations
I.E. Wallin (Deceased) 181
Gut microbe of aphid closely related to its intracellular symbiont
H. Harada, H. Ishikawa (Tokyo, Japan) 185
The origin of land plants: a union of alga and fungus advanced by flavonoids
R. Jorgensen (Davis, CA) 193
Algal blooms in the spread and persistence of cholera
P.R. Epstein (Cambridge, MA) 209
Sperm competition and the persistence of genes for male homosexuality
F. MacIntyre, K.W. Estep (Amsterdam, The Netherlands) 223
Is humanity suicidal
E.O. Wilson (Cambridge, MA) 235
